“The involvement of the audience and the input we all had in discussion really made the evening exciting and interesting.”

“Provocative and challenging to the non-believers views on equality and inclusion, which is often hypocritical.”

“Very good, clear presentation on God’s view of how to approach diversity with God’s eyes and not be conformed to the world’s view.”

“Leaving the audience open to debate with one another during feedback is very interesting as it brings up new points and opinion.”

“More controversial than I would have expected.”

“The issue about legislation v law written on your heart made me think. We are responsible to build an environment that is inclusive and so it may be right to legislate – but it can never be instead of ‘heart’ / behaviour change.”

“We all have a level of set in prejudice to accept that rather than be defensive and aim to develop a greater understanding. DEAD PEOPLE HAVE NO RIGHTS.”
